BY A LIE-ABRD. More than one has shown how hotlow Is this provers, and absu d; For the w rm, it sure must follow, Got up earlier than the bird.

Doubtle's, too, the bird in question Eating with too great a zeal, Suffered much trou indigestion, Owing to that morning meal.

And it would not be surprising
If that bird should fall a prey
To the sportsmen; early rising
Makes the aim so sure they say

Perhaps it's young, too—had it any— By their parents left forlorn, Caught cata-real allment many From the keen, cold air of morn. Other birds-for birds will chatter-

When they saw the bird alight, Might have chi ped with scornful patier "Ah! the rake's been out all night!"

Summing up the case concisely,
This decided is I say:
Early brist don't get on nicely!
Facy rising does not pay! | London Fun

THE TWITCHELL CASE.

Further Particulars in Regard to the Confession of the Condemned Man.

Our telegrams yesterday mentioned the state ment of George S. Twitchell, made to Rev. Dr. Binghurst, in which he declares that on the night of the murder, he was roused from sleep by his wife coming to him and stating that she had killed her mother in a quarrel. They both went to the room where she lay dead, and together threw the body out of the window. The Philadelphia Bulletin adds :

Strange as Twitchell's statement is it is cor-Strange as Twitchell's statement is it is correborated in some degree by the conduct of Mrs. Twitchell, who has for some time past ceased her visits to her husband, and is said to have expressed a great anxiety that reporters should be excluded from the scene of his execution. We are informed that the accused murderess left the city at an early hour this morning it anticipation of her husband's confession.

The following is Twitchell's confession in full, as published in the Bulletin:

full, as published in the Bulletin:

I went to by room on the night of the marder, and instead of going to bed I laid down on a lounge in my room, and fell fast asleep.

My wife was in ed at the time. I was roused by her repeated calls, and ran down to the dining-room, where I tound her much excited saying, "I have had a quarrel with mother, and killed her;" I do not know whether she said "save me" or "help me hide it," but at last we threw the body of Mrs. Hill out of the window to make it look as if she fell out; went down stairs and washed my hands and face at the hydrant, then went to my room, undressed and went to bed. My wife fame up afterward and got into bed, where we staid until Sarah C.mpbell rung the bell. I think we were in bed ten or twenty minutes, I made a solemn vow to Eternal God that night that I would never reveal it, but I cannot keep than I might that I would never reveal it, but I cannot keep than I had it to be these dismind to save my wife. I now make these dis-closures that I may have peace with God. (Signed) George S. Twitchell, Jr. In the pre-ence of Rev. George Binghurst and Wm. B. Perkins.

Gross receipts at this port for the week, 8,156 bales. Since 1st September 555,172 bales.

On the week our prices show a decline of 14 cent, while Laverpool is 14 digher than on last Friday. The tightness of money, the impossibility of negotiating exchange, the knowledge that the exports would be large, and an expectation that there would be an increase shown in the receipts have exerted a depressing influence in all our markets. In view of the small stock and a continue in improvement in goods, hiverpool advanced a little. Our spinners continue to buy less than they are using, and we believe their average stock to be about equal to four or five weeks' consumption. This work's receipts have been swelled by deliveries from the interior towns, which show a reduction in stock of 8:85 bales. No better indication of approaching exhaustion of the crop could be shown. There have been received at the ports since the 1st' optember, 1,787,184 bales of which exporters have taken 1,781,65 dales: spinners 451,894 and the stocks have increased 317,211 biles. Deficit in receipts as compared with last year, 116,591 bales. Deficit in shi, ments to Liverpool now 277,338 bales.

In Finlay, Clark & Co.'s Bombay Circular, of February 20. we find he following info mation about the crop of that Presidency: In 1808 the import into Liverpool from Bombay amounted to 1,022 048 vales, and lato London 16 877 bales, together 1,038,925 bales. From Madras and Bengal we have nothing reliable about the crops. Last year Great Biltsin recoived from these places 413 147 bales, so that the total import in 1868 into Great Britain was 1,452,072 bales.

total import in 1868 into Great Britain was 1.452,072 bales.

"From the covernment reports just published and the news generally that has been reaching as from native dealers it would seem to be corrion that we cannot this year send forward nearly as much cotton as weld in 1868. The general opinion now is that the crop will be 20 per cent. I set than last year, and taking into account the absence of old cotton, of which hast spring at least 200,000 bales went forward, we think it is safe to assume that exports to Great rithin in 1869 will not exceed 800,000 bales, as the Continent at present promises to take off fully as much as last season, no less than fourtern ships with considerable tregit engagements being on the beith for Hayre."

THE JALES FOR FUTURE DELIVERY—For April, 250 bales sold at 230, 200 on private terms. For Mily, 200 ba control and provide terms. Total, 1250 bales.

In the Obarwar collectorate the weather till lately was ex-essively warm. and consequently unfaverable for cott in plants, especially for the indig nous (comotable, which are less advanced than the extite (tharwar sawghined.) The first plenting has been completed in the most forward districts, and is now proceedin in others. Final lots of Vingoria (comptable) and of Dharwar sawghined have arrived here, and 23 candles of the latter found a buyer on the 17th at 28st. The color is good, and the staple, though valuer weak and irregular is coler than that of the carly arrivals of last crop. In old cotton the unchases reported consist of 600 candles of Dharwar sawdinned at 28st to 27tr, and 1876 of Dhollerah at 28st to 28st. The recent arrivals of these growthe are of pood quality.

The cotton commissioner, in a report dated the 16th is stant, estudates the deficiency of the cotton crop of this presidency for the year 1868-9 at "25 per cent as contra tid with the crop of last asson, the out-turn of which amounted to about 1,2,0,000 bakes for export," and attributes the same to want of rain in sucdry visials, of which the chief are Khandelsh. The above analysis indicates a Manurial Superphosphate of Lime of the highest grade ordinarily found in the American market. Its large amount of Soluble Phosphoric Acid supplies an active nutriment for the development and maturity of the fraitage. The Sulphuric Acid which it contains, by chemical affinity with the elements of most soils contribute to its Fertulizing Properties. To show its best effects, this Superphosphite should be applied under and in contact with the Seed, and with a moderately shallow covering of soil.

We guarantee that every package of RHODES' STANDARD SUPERPHOSPHATE shall fully come up to the above analysis.
